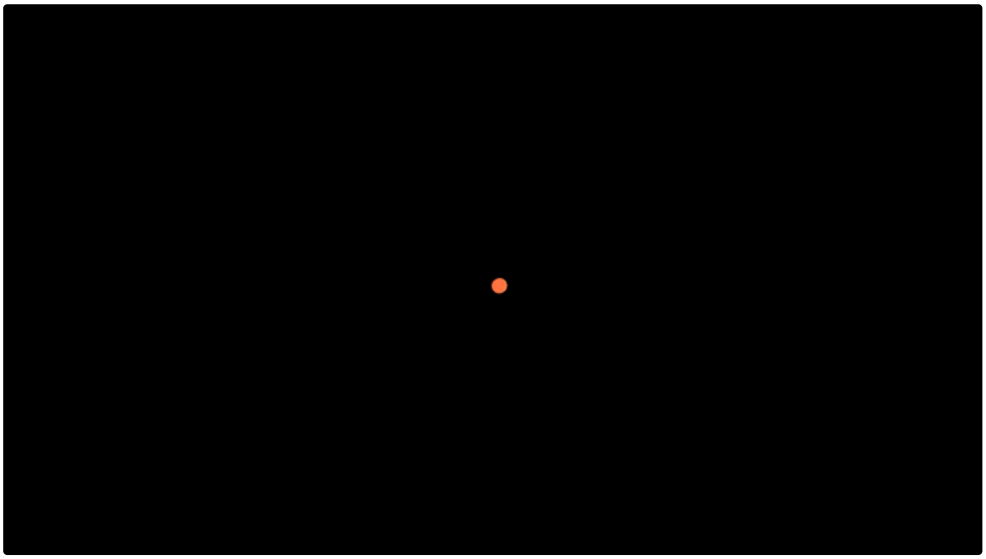
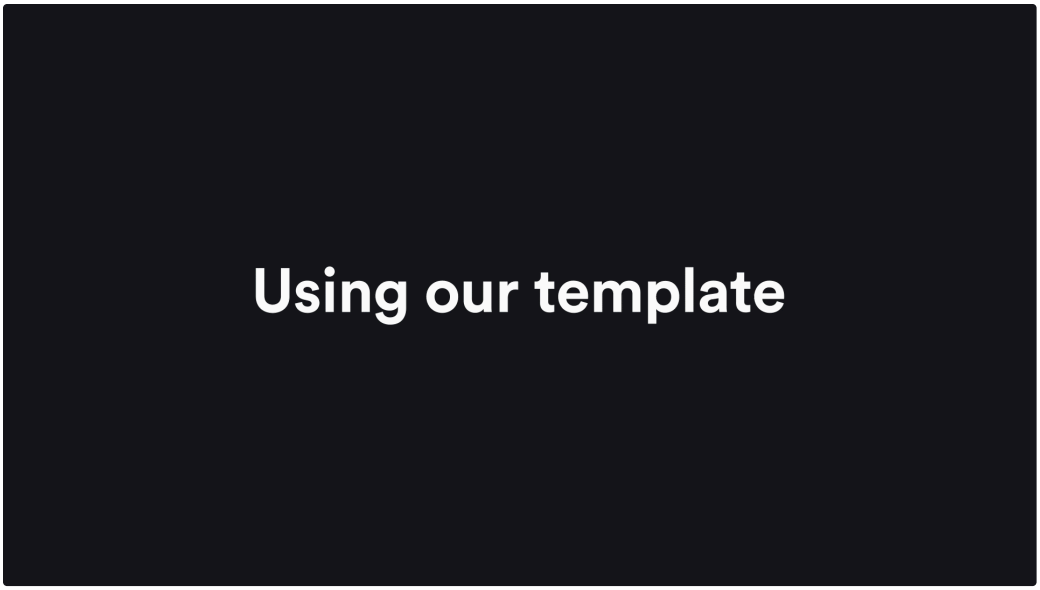
📌 Brand guidelines

Our Brand Guidelines is where teams such as Marketing, Design, Brand & Content and Corporate Affairs can access our most up to date guidance and rules to ensure all our communications are as consistent as possible.



📌 Motion principles

Our Brand Guidelines includes a section that specify a number of animation styles and treatments. In these Motion Principles Guides you can also find downloadable After Effect files where all of these animations are set up as templates, ready to use.



📌 Google slide presentation templates

You will find the Airwallex-branded Google Slides deck template added by default to your Google Workspace. And to help you get started we have also added an assets repository with example graphics, diagrams, icon sets and other stylistic guidance. ‘DM Sans’ is the approved font for these decks and has already been added to the template.

How to get started:

1. Go to Google slides in your Google workspace
2. In the ‘Start a new presentation’ section, click ‘Template Gallery’ or ‘Asset Repository’ on the right hand side of your screen.
3. Choose the AWX template and start creating your slide deck.

📌 Brand font

Our brand font is ‘Circular’ for latin alphabets and Source Han Sans for Chinese alphabets (open source). For instances when you can’t use ‘Circular’ our back-up font is ‘DM Sans’ (found via Google Fonts).

📌 Product category logotypes and colours

To help differentiate or product category offerings, they are defined by colour as well as their own logo mark. It is important to adhere to these rules on all communications, internal and external, so that we achieve consistency. For presentation decks you can find the detailed icons and colour values for these brand pre-set in our Google Slides 'Assets Repository' deck.
